Thought for the Week: “The only place that “success” comes before “work” is in the dictionary.” *Vince Lombardi

*Kevin bet Tom that he could predict the score of the football game before it started. Tom accepts the bet but loses even though Kevin's prediction was that the score would be 0-0 and each team scored. Kevin's bet was that he could predict the score "before the game started" and 0 to 0 was the score before the game started.
