Thought for the Week: "It is a mistake to focus on the negative. It is a mistake sometimes to think that the bad stuff is all bad. It is often in the middle of nowhere, lost and confused, when nothing makes sense, that we find ourselves and come to know ourselves in new and brilliant ways." Matthew Kelly

* Which French landmark was designed to be taken down after 20 years? The Eiffel Tower. It was constructed for the International Exposition of 1889. Paris gave Gustave Eiffel use of the land the tower stood on for 20 years. Fortunately, the structure was able to prove its usefulness as an antenna in the blossoming field of radio, and in 1910 the lease was renewed for 70 years. Britannica Good Facts
